

Biometric Consortium 2004 Conference

Edwin P. Rood, Ph.D.
Research Program Development
West Virginia University

PO Box 6216
Morgantown, WV 26506-6216
Phone: 304.293.8281. EdwinRood@mail.wvu.edu

Responsible for the development, leadership, executive administration, technical direction, and financial management of major research initiatives cutting across the schools and colleges of West Virginia University. Reports directly to the Vice-President for Research and Economic Development. Recent positions include Director, The Biometric Knowledge Center and Interim Director, WVNano Initiative.

Previously a Program Director at the Office of Naval Research. Responsibility and authority for the development, implementation, and direction and administration, including financial matters, of science and technology research programs directed at building and applying the knowledge base for the hydrodynamic and hydroacoustic design of advanced ships and submarines.

Most recently, an independent practice advising on biometrics research and development processes for federal, industry, and university collaborations.

Education:	1984	Ph.D.	M.E.	The Catholic University
	1971	M.S.	Physics	The American University
	1968	B.S.	Physics	Virginia Polytechnic Institute & State University (Phi Kappa Phi and Sigma Pi Sigma Honor Societies)