Lydotta M. Taylor serves as President of The EdVenture Group, where she is responsible for leading the organization in their mission to provide educational consulting, training and partnership building to foster the productive use of technology. Under her direction, over 20,000 educators, business representatives and community members have been trained to use and integrate technology into their businesses practices and their daily lives. Ms. Taylor completed the Advanced Management Program at Duke University's Fuqua School of Business Executive Education and holds a Masters degree in Secondary Education from West Virginia University. She has over 23 years of classroom and business experience in the fields of education and technology. Prior to founding The EdVenture Group, Ms. Taylor served as Vice President for Workforce and Education at the West Virginia High Technology Consortium (WVHTC) Foundation. She served as a math and computer science teacher in Monongalia County for 14 years.

Ms. Taylor is Chairperson of the West Virginia Workforce Advisory Council and serves on the Governor's Cabinet for Children and Families and the Southern Growth Policy Board's Council for a New Economy Workforce. Ms. Taylor also serves on the Board of Directors for the Morgantown Area Chamber of Commerce and the Monongalia Health Systems. She is a past member of the Board of Directors for the West Virginia Education Alliance and the Fairmont State College Foundation. Ms. Taylor lives in Morgantown with her husband and their two children.
